Gossip as to Railroad Rate Legislation.

ROUGH RIDER GREETED

LEE PHILPOT CALLS ON THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. Cortelyou Expected to Reach Boston Early Next Week-An Invitation to Visit Florida.

Representative Townsend of Michigan.

one of the authors of the Esch-Townsend freight rate bill, had a talk with the President today regarding the prospects for the enactment of the measure into law. Mr. Townsend, who has canvassed the situation pretty thoroughly, expressed the opinion that there was a chance for the passage of the bill by the Senate at the present session. He said that the Senate committee on interstate commerce, which has the measure under consideration, was about evenly divided as to the proposition of reporting it to the Senate. He expressed the opinion that it would be reported in a few days by a majority vote of the committee. His discussion of the subject with senators had convinced him that a considerable majority of the Senate was in favor of the bill as it stands now, and he had no doubt that, if a vote could be reached, it would pass. After his talk with the President. Mr. Townsend said that, in the event no legislation on the rate question was enacted at this session, an extraordinary session of Congress would be called by President Roosevelt for next autumn, perhaps in

A prominent member of the Senate committee on interstate commerce said today that it was his belief that the committee would report the Esch-Townsend bill, but that it will be so near the end of the present session that it will be impossible for the Senate to pass the measure before ad-journment. The authority for the statement is one of the best posted men in the Senate.

President Greets a Rough Rider. Representative Rodenberg of Illinois introduced to the President Lee Philpot of East St. Louis. Philpot was a member of the Rough Riders, and the President knew him instantly, greeting him warmly. Turning to a number of congressional callers. the President said: "Are you surprised that the Spaniards ran from men of this kind in Cuba?" Philpot is over six feet tall, a glant in proportions, and has a face of the most determined kind. He is a member of the celebrated Philpot fued family of Kentucky and enlisted in the Rough Riders from his mountain home in that state. Philpot has been a detective in East St. Louis and wants to get on the secret service force. The chances are that he will get what he wants if there is an opening in that establishment. His record is good, and there is not a braver police officer in the west, it is said. Return of Mr. Cortelyou. George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the republican national committee, will probably reach Boston next Monday or Tuesday. He sailed from Europe on the 9th of this month in a slow ship. After spending a short time arranging some business matters in New York Mr. Cortelyou will come on here. The work of the national committee is in charge of Elmer Dover, secretary, and Mr. Dover was at the White House in conference with the President as to a number of appointments in the south. Mr. Dover is familiar with the situation in the south, and the President consults him often. A cordial invitation was extended to the the Jacksonville board of trade, who, on behalf of the citizens of Jacksonville, presented the invitation. The President ex-pressed pleasure at the invitation and told his callers that he would endeavor to visit Jacksonville some time during his admin-

BASE BALL MAGNATES

LEAGUE REPRESENTATIVES CON-FER IN NEW YORK TODAY.

Special Dispatch to The Evening Star.

NEW YORK, February 16-Rather a dead lot of base ball men turned up this morning. The American League people had a most uncomfortable journey from the west, owing to the very severe weather in that section, and the National League people, at least some of them, had been to the banquet of the Elks last night and they were in no great hurry to get to work. Ban Johnson announced for the American Leaguers that he would meet with Messrs. Pulliam and Hermann at an early hour and that they would go over the details of one or two important matters which would start both leagues in active operation. For instance, there was the question of the world's championship series to be consid-

Rules to Fit the Case.

"As I understand it," said Mr. Johnson, Mr. Herrmann has drafted rules which he thinks would fit the case. With him and Mr. Pulliam, I shall meet as the members of the national commission to look over these rules. After we have agreed upon them they must be reported back to each league for adoption, but I do not think there will be any delay by the leagues in taking them up, since if the national commission is satisfied the leagues surely should be."

It is said that the Herrmann plan pro-It is said that the Herrmann plan provides for seven games. Three of these games are to be played in one city which has a championship team, and three in the other city. If it is necessary to play the seventh game it will be transferred, if there is any request for such trans, to some city where both leagues are represented, but it may be that no such request will be made.

Advantage of Seven Games. The American League was said to be in favor of nine games in this series, but it was called to the attention of the base ball men by some of the players that seven games constituted two rather hard weeks novel, since the president of the National League will select the American League umpire, and the president of the American League will pick out the National League umpire.

This will do away with all charges of collusion and in addition to that will make it impossible for the umpire of any league to favor a team toward the close in the championship series, hoping that by doing so he may be selected as one of the officials to the world's series, any, by the way, that in the world's series, any, by the way, that has been a very unfortunate feature in some world's series which have been played

Demands of Minor Leagues. Regarding the demands of the minor leaguers which are to be made some time today or tomorrow, Ban Johnson as uncommunicative. "We are not," said he, "prepared to make any statement on the matter until the minor league men come before us with their

I do not be-Senator Taliaferro of Florida introduced to the President C. E. Garner, president of which is of real advancement to the interests of the best sport in the United National League Schedule.

It is expected that the National League schedule will be made public property tonight. It is the turn of the National League this year to have their schedule first offered to the public. As there are only two or three minor changes to be considered by both league presidents the chances are that they will be adjusted when evening comes, and the National League people will then be able to take an adjournment unless they remain in the city to see what the American League does on the minor league question.

Of course, the National League is already committed to the cause of the minors, and any vote which they might take would merely be to confirm what has already been agreed upon.

On all sides, both from the American League and from independent base ball men, nothing but commendation is heard for the action which was taken in the Tay-lor case. It is agreed that the National League did the wisest thing in the case any base ball organization. Taylor Action Commended. "There were plenty of persons," said tional League would sidestep the case and not try to do anything to clear Taylor. Just the contrary happened when Taylor said that he wanted the case investigated, and the National League produced all the evidence which it was possible to collect, and then said there was nothing in the charge of dishonesty.

"Taylor stands before the world absolutely cleared of all suspicion against his name. If that wasn't the square thing for the league to do, then I don't want a cent.
"Of course, he was fined for being drunk, but he was lucky that something more than a fine was not tacked onto him, judging from what I hear regarding the nature of the testimony before the board and what he admitted himself in his own evidence. Any-how, it is out of the question for anybody to say that a dishonest ball player has been found, although there are plenty of persons who would gladly do something of the Betrothal in Royalty Circles.
